Election of Candidates for two new Board of Director Members

- Two candidates were present and offered their qualifications
  - Candidate Doralice-Handal, owner and operator of Geyserville’s Locals Tasting Room, presented her history. Which included her world travels and all her leadership roles within the wine world of Sonoma County.
  - Candidate Bryce Jones, owner of the Geyserville Sculpture Trail, presented his community service to the present for the last six. What he also did was endorse Cecelia Muela, stating, “If you don’t vote for me, please vote for Cecelia Muela.”
  - Candidate Cecelia Muela was absent, due to a family emergency. Jo Diaz, Ceci’s advocate, was asked to present a few words about Cecelia Muela’s qualifications as Chief Building Official for the City of Santa Rosa. Diaz believes that this makes her a perfect fit for the GPC committee.
- SPECIAL NOTE: At the end of the meeting, both Bryce Jones and Cecelia Muela were elected to the committee.

President Connors reviewed the Articles of the Association with the public in attendance:

- The uniqueness of GPC, as opposed to other unincorporated areas in Sonoma County
- At the annual meeting when the Articles were adopted, the officers of the association were selected by the membership for the Planning Committee.
- Only seven people in town were selected at the 1983 signing, 40 years ago:
  - Josephine Del Sarto
  - Richard Dilworth
